The Functioning of Memory (after Dali)

Oil on Wood Panel

34" x 28"

$1,500.00

I was born in South Africa, traveled the world, and come to rest on the Central Coast of California. I paint in oils on large and small surfaces of many different types and levels of de/construction, from paper to collage, from wood to canvas and recycled particle board. In my work, I try to pose questions that might not easily occur, to venture into places we might not naturally desire to travel, to spark connections that may feel subversive but are ultimately always a quest for authentic and transformative engagement.
