Southwest Holiday II
Acrylic and Collage on Paper
24" x 18"

While sheltered in place in Tanque Verde, Arizona, in January, forests of Saguaro cactus, prickly pears, barrel cactus, the call of javelinas and blue skies set the mood for my "Southwest" series. These pieces are my response to the desert using acrylics, pastel sticks, collage, ink and pencil. They are inspired by the works of artists who used abstraction to express their feelings about their inner state or outer locale. These include Kandinsky, Schwitters, Klee, Frankenthaler and many other Abstract Expressionist artists. My work would not exist as it is without them.
