My paintings are a celebration of color. My background as an Interior Designer influences my color choices and my choice of subjects. I love to paint in oils, and sometimes use acrylics. My paintings are inspired by the colorful work of the French Fauve artists of the early 20th Century, especially Henri Matisse. I paint abstract, semi-abstract landscapes, and abstract botanicals. My brilliant botanicals are a simplification and exaggeration of nature. They are influenced by the bold large scale flower paintings of Georgia O'Keeffe, but with my own more abstract interpretation. I enjoy the painting process and love to experiment with different colors and techniques. I hope the end result will bring joy to others.
